Question: What can notified bodies do to ensure that the information supplied by the manufacturer is legible?
Solution: When checking the information supplied by the manufacturer, notified bodies should point out to the manufacturer that the printed version must be presented in a way that it is legible for the user. They should make the manufacturer aware of relevant documents such as
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• IEC 82079-1 "Preparation of instructions for use – structuring, content and presentation – Part 1: General principles and detailed requirements", that specifies requirements for the presentation of instructions of use, e.g. font sizes;</li><li>• ISO IEC Guide 37:2012 "Instructions for use of products by consumers";</li><li>• "Guideline on the readability of the labelling and package leaflet of medical products for human use" (version of 12/01/2009).</li></ul>
