Work positioning

Question:

Which requirements are recommended if a guided type fall arrester including a flexible anchor line is also intended to be use for work positioning (suspension)?

Solution:

In addition to EN 353-2:2002, the product has to fulfill the requirements of the applicable standards for work positioning's use, but if the intended adjustment is when the line is under tension, the product has to fulfill EN 12841:2024 type B and/or C.

Instructions for use shall include the requirement to provide a back-up in use

Note: Regarding the incorrect attachment and use of a guided type fall arrester including a flexible anchor line see CNB/P/11.042.
