Question related to ☒ PPE Regulation

☒ EN/prEN: EN 795:2012, EN 353-2 :2002, EN 360 :2023

Other:

Article:

Annex:

Clause: Art. 7 – i) – iii)

Key words:

Anchor device, type C, instructions for use, EN 360:2023, EN 353-2:2002

Question:

What shall the notified body require if the manufacturer claims on its instructions for use that its type C anchor device can be combined with retractable fall arrester (EN 360:2023) or guided type fall arrester including a flexible anchor line (EN 353-2:2002)?

Solution:

In application of article 7 point i) – iii), the manufacturer shall show to the notified body evidences of risk analysis (e.g. tests) combining the type C anchor device and each claimed models of EN 360:2023 or 353-2:2002 PPE.

Instructions for use shall at least:

- 1- List all models/references of these EN 360:2023 and/or EN 353-2:2002 that can be used on the type C anchor device.
- 2- Include specific warning about necessary clearance below the user when EN 360:2023 and/or EN 353-2:2002 PPE can be used on the type C anchor device.
